But what about social media?

Dating apps block dick pics
(They try to)

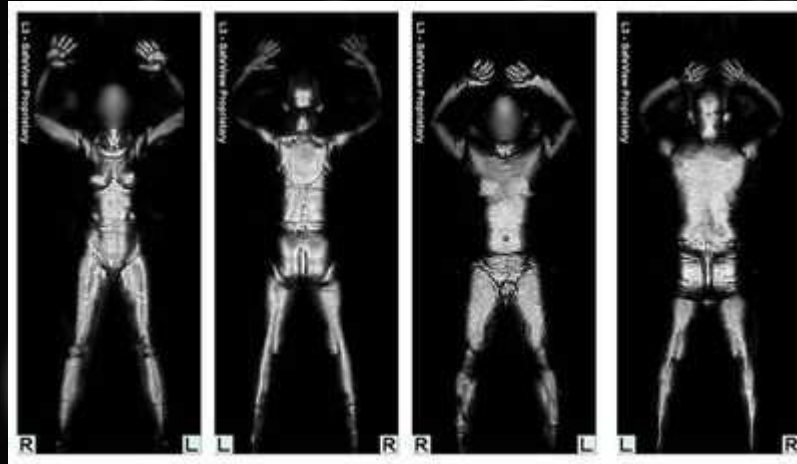

Now privacy

- If you have your dick pics in your system, you might be a good incentive to secure your system better.
- When your passwords give others access to your dick pics you are less likely to share them.
- Authenticate using dick(pics)?

Dick pics create awareness

When people share dick pics

- They have data on the Internet the want to keep private.
- It makes them aware of data leak risks.
- When their privacy is threatened it might make them more prepared to take action.

De-motivating attackers

- When presented with dick pics when trying to hack the system
- People lose incentive
- It's great fun thinking of the eyebleach people will need, to cure the pain you caused

Authentication

- Fingerprints and irises are public, a dick print is more secure
- But there is a key you are obligated by law to keep hidden
- Your most private key
(There are some practical problems though unlocking your phone in public with this method)
- Securing an ATM this way would be a bit unhygienic as well

OV chip card

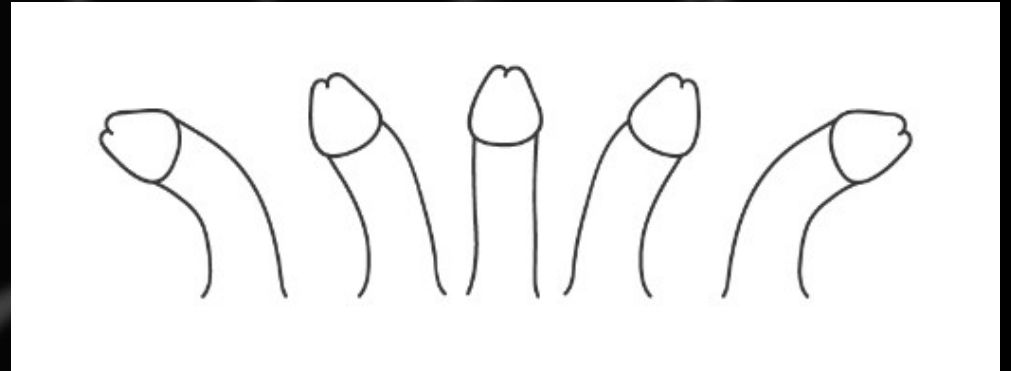

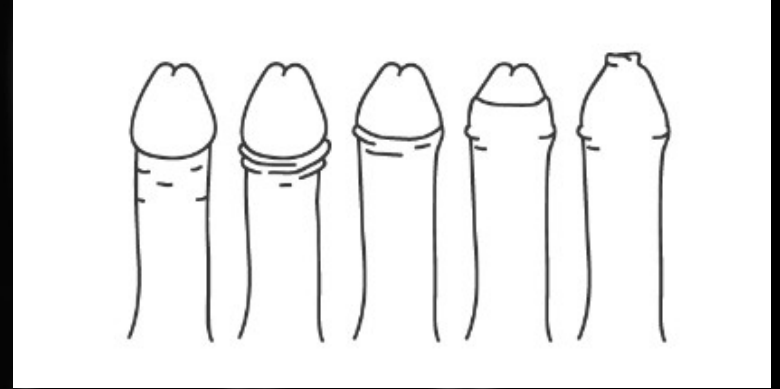

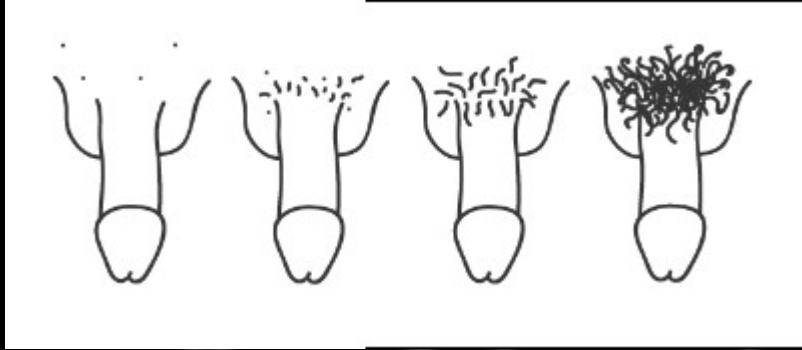

The old fashioned way

- Not practical in public
- Does depict the penis as is
- You need to have a penis
- Can be done even with an analog camera
(Free extra audience when handing in the film for development)
 priceless looks when collecting the pictures.

How people without a dick see dick pics

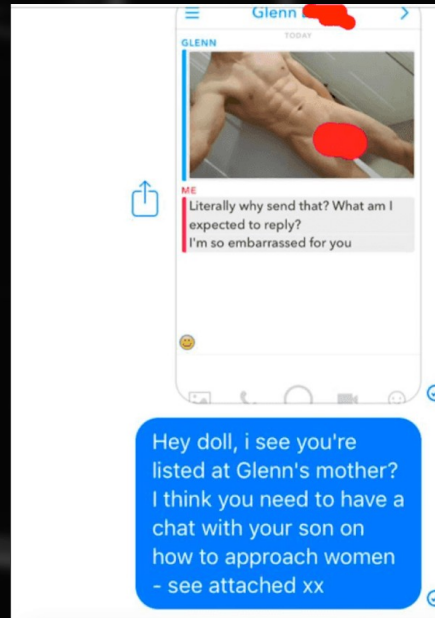

- Context matters a lot
- Clean up your room
- No interest in dick pics from strangers, Google can provide them as well

"I think that a man wants to see a woman's body and a woman may want to see a man in the picture with ... a Rolex watch or a business suit or a pair of cool jeans," said Helen Fisher, Match.com's chief scientific adviser, according to the New York Observer.
